Eight-Page Mini Book

SD-B105 / DISCOVERERS · AGES 7–9

Fold one sheet into an eight-page book and fill it with a tiny story.

YOU NEED: One sheet of paper, scissors (a grown-up cuts)

DISCOVER	Fold one sheet in half, then in half again, then once more. Unfold it to see eight boxes.
PREDICT	Guess what will happen if we cut a slit along the middle fold. Write your guess.
SOLVE	A grown-up cuts a slit across the two middle boxes. Fold the sheet in half and push the ends together to make a book.
EXPLAIN	Number the pages and plan your tiny story in the boxes. Which pages are upside down when it is flat?

My book's big surprise

The surprise is

GROWN-UP GUIDE: Fold a sheet of paper into eight boxes. A grown-up cuts a slit along the middle fold, across the two middle boxes. Fold the paper in half the other way and push the ends together; it opens into a cross that folds into a book. The flat sheet shows why some pages are upside down.
